Former GMS Exec Forms Outsourcing Firm

Former Guardian Mortgage Services executive Mary Kladde has gone out on her own to form Titan Lenders Corp., a closing, post-closing, and mortgage fulfillment services provider based in Denver. Titan services will act as a variable-cost alternative for mortgage bankers, brokers, and investors to increase their loan-closing capacity while reducing risk, errors, and overhead costs, the company said. Titan offers an established service model, extensive industry experience, and customized solutions automated by Cerberyx, a contemporary Web-based technology platform designed specifically for its processes, according to the company. Built upon the eSys Technologies platform for managing cost and increasing productivity for next-generation lenders, Titan's Cerberyx application is a Web-based information management tool providing a window into a lender's entire pipeline from application through sale of the loan.
